

OCCASIONAL PUBLICATION OF THE LONDON CHAPTER, OAS, NO. 9

CONTENTS

Going Beyond Professional and Research “Enclaves”: An Appreciation of Michael W. Spence
Christopher Ellis, Neal Ferris, Christine White and Peter Timmins 1-17

Section I: Studies in Ontario Archaeology

Evidence for Bow and Arrow Use in the Small Point Late Archaic of Southwestern Ontario
Kristen Snarey and Christopher Ellis 21-38

Life and Death at the Quarry: The Early Woodland Archaeology of the Peace Bridge Site
Ronald F. Williamson, David A. Robertson, Martin S. Cooper, Robert I. Macdonald, Shaun J. Austin and Robert H. Pihl 39-68

Much Ado about Netsinkers: An Examination of Pre-Contact Aboriginal Netsinker Manufacture and Use Patterns at Five Woodland Period Archaeological Sites within Southern Ontario
Shari L. Prowse 69-96

Praying Mantis: A Unique Glen Meyer Village in London
Robert J. Pearce 97-120

The Harrietsville Site (AfHf-10): An Earthwork Surrounded Neutral Village in Middlesex County
James R. Keron 121-136

Section II: Osteological Studies

A Critical Review of the Methodology for the Study of Secular Change Using Skeletal Data
John Albanese 139-156

Who Was Buried at the Varden Site (AdHa-1)? Osteological Insights into the Time of Interment and the Cultural Group Association of the Mortuary Component of a Long Point Fishing Station
Lindsay Foreman and Eldon Molto 157-186

Origins of the Odd Fellows Skeletal Collection: Exploring Links to Early Medical Training
Jaime Ginter 187-204

“The Ways To Dusty Death:” Three Projects Involving the Recently Emeritus Professor Michael W. Spence
Dana Poulton, Christine Dodd, Christopher Neill, Michael Spence and James Sherratt 205-226

Cranial Trauma as Evidence of a Stressful Period among Southern African Foragers
Susan Pfeiffer 227-238

Section III: Ethnicity and Identity

Within and Without: The Enclaving of Native Communities in 19th Century Ontario
Neal Ferris 241-253

Pottery and Ethnic Identity in the Oaxaca Barrio, Teotihuacan
Kevin Gibbs 255-264

Ceramic Decoration, Ethnicity And Political Economy in the Inland Niger Delta of Mali
Jeremy J. Cunningham 265-278

The Teotihuacan Dream: An Isotopic Study of Economic Organization and Immigration
Christine White, Fred Longstaffe, Michael Spence, Evelyn Rattray and Rebecca Storey 279-297